Summary

As a passionate DevOps Engineer, I thrive in building and optimizing infrastructure to ensure seamless integration and delivery of software. With hands-on experience in a variety of tools and platforms such as Docker, Jenkins, GitLab CI, GitHub Actions, Drone CI/CD, Gitea, and cloud platforms like AWS, Azure, GCP, and DigitalOcean, I am always ready to take on new challenges and create solutions that drive continuous improvement in the software development lifecycle.

One of my core strengths is a love for self-hosting services in my personal home lab. I enjoy experimenting with different technologies and deploying real-world solutions outside of the corporate environment. This allows me to test, learn, and grow while maintaining a deep understanding of the technologies I work with.

Whether it's streamlining CI/CD pipelines, managing infrastructure as code, or leveraging cloud solutions for scalability and reliability, my goal is always to enable teams to deliver high-quality software faster and more efficiently.

I'm always looking to collaborate with others who are passionate about DevOps and innovation. Let's connect if you're looking for a DevOps professional who is hands-on, proactive, and always eager to learn!
